Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines reveals Top 20 'hand-picked highlights' for 2018/19

Norway's breathtaking fjords, majestic Iceland and the sun-soaked islands of the Indian Ocean are among Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines' most popular sailings for 2018/19, unveiled in its new 'Top 20 Cruises' brochure.

Fred. Olsen's hand-picked sailings include 'off-the-beaten-track' destinations, such as explorations of Arctic Russia, Spitsbergen and the remote islands of the Atlantic, while those seeking sun, sea and sand can choose from island-hopping around the Mediterranean or exotic Indian Ocean adventures.

Justin Stanton, Sales and Marketing Director for Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines, said:

“At Fred. Olsen, our cruises have been carefully created to offer more than just the regular tourist crowd-pullers, so guests can get the genuine essence of each destination along the way. Guests can discover Canada, as it bursts into colour during the Fall, immerse themselves in the historic towns and cities of the Adriatic, or head to the Baltic region in time for the ‘Medieval Days Festival’ in Tallinn, Estonia.

“There are chances to experience some of the world’s most captivating waterways aboard Fred. Olsen’s smaller, friendlier ocean cruise ships, too. The picturesque River Seine, the spectacular Stockholm Archipelago and the scenic Kiel Canal are three fine examples, not forgetting the Norwegian fjords, of course.”

Highlights of Fred. Olsen’s 2018/19 itineraries include:
