Check Out the Great New Improvements To My Cruises

“My Cruises” is a personalised section on the Fred. Olsen website where you can book and manage your cruises and keep a personal record of your cruise history.

Now, there have been some important new improvements and you can get more than ever out of the site.

When you log onto My Cruises – protected by your personal user name and password – you can:-

- Book and manage your future cruises
- Change personal details
- View your cruise history – just like an online journal
- View your Ocean’s Club membership status and check on your points (you can also download the Ocean’s newsletter here)
- View the weather via a live feed in ports you are planning to visit
- Check fly/cruise and pre and post cruise stay options
- Complete your passenger information online
- Research and book shore excursions for your future cruises - coming soon!

The site is more colourful and user-friendly, secure and, as well as being a useful “one stop shop” for all your cruise planning, it acts as a great record of your cruise history and a store for memories.

Shona Michell, Senior New Media Executive for Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines said: “My Cruises is a complete online resource for planning, researching and booking cruises and extras and a good reference guide for each customer’s personal cruise history. We think the new additions will make it even more popular and useful."
