Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines to feature in new Dover TV series

Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines is set to appear in an upcoming episode of a new behind-the-scenes TV series filmed at the Port of Dover.

Featuring on episode four of Dover 24/7: Britain's Busiest Port, airing on Channel 4 on Monday 23rd June at 8pm, the focus will be on the operations of its 1,353-guest ship, Borealis on a turnaround day, and how the crew prepare the ship for the embarkation of new guests, and departing from the port.

Holly Goddard, Head of Brand at Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines said:

“We are thrilled to be involved in this fascinating series, which underlines the importance of the Port of Dover and the huge amount of work that goes into its day-to-day running. Aboard Borealis, viewers will be able to enjoy a rare glimpse behind the scenes as our crew carefully prepares the ship to welcome new guests. From the thorough cleaning of every deck to the precise coordination of supplies and services, each task is carried out with the same care and attention that defines a Fred. Olsen cruise, ensuring our guests feel special from the very first moment they step on board.”

Peter Wright, Head of Cruise at the Port of Dover said:

“This prime-time TV episode, dedicated to Dover Cruise and one of our long-standing cruise lines, showcases the hard work, passion, and exceptional service from many different teams, to ensure hundreds of people experience a holiday of a lifetime.

“My thanks go to Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines and their guests for partnering with us, and to our operations, security, and guest services teams for presenting the incredible activity and sights of a turnaround call and bustling three cruise ship day in Dover.”
