Free champagne afternoon tea for teachers on select 2024/25 summer holiday cruises

Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines is offering teachers a free champagne traditional afternoon tea for two on sailings in July and August to coincide with the summer holidays.

Traditionally, booking holidays during the school breaks can be an expensive challenge for those working in the education sector.

Clare Ward, Director of Product and Customer Service at Fred. Olsen Cruise

Lines, said:

“At Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines, you won’t see us hike up our cruise prices during the school holidays, as we are not targeting ourselves towards those with young families. This makes us a great cruise line for teachers looking for a break outside of term-time.

“The offer of a complimentary champagne afternoon tea is available for cruises of six nights or more in July and August 2024 and 2025 which includes destinations including the stunning Norwegian Fjords, the volcanic Azores, picturesque French rivers and rugged Iceland.

“By choosing a Fred. Olsen cruise, you can visit multiple destinations off the beaten tourist trail, immerse in the local way of life, learn about the culture and enjoy stunning scenery, all while enjoying the comfort and on board experience on our fleet of smaller-sized ships”.

The offer, which is applicable to new bookings until 31st July 2024, can be applied by calling our Reservations Team and stating code TEACH245. Teacher Reference Numbers (TRNs) must also be provided.
