Make it a 'Caribbean Christmas' at sea with Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines

Christmas is a time for celebration and relaxation, and what better way to do both than on a sunny Caribbean cruise? Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines has a leisurely 25-night ex-UK 'Caribbean Christmas' cruise, W1121, aboard Black Watch, departing from Southampton on 17th December 2011.

The long Atlantic crossing allows for plenty of time to relax on board, and enjoy the many activities and facilities the ship has to offer. Guests can join in quizzes and traditional deck games, read, in the peace of the library, swim, or work out in the gym, send e-mails home from the Internet Room or via the various wi-fi 'hotspots' in the public areas on board, or take part in many other enjoyable activities, as the ship makes her way to the warm Caribbean waters.

Christmas Day sees Black Watch in the middle of her Atlantic crossing, and the day is celebrated at sea in the traditional way – there is a sumptuous feast, a visit from Santa Claus for younger guests, as well as carol singing, festive entertainment, quizzes and, of course, a ship glittering with Christmas trees and decorations.

The first Caribbean port of call is Barbados on 28th December 2011; the lovely islands of St. Lucia, Antigua, Tortola, and St. Maarten also feature, and the return crossing includes a visit to the Azores, arriving back in Southampton on 11th January 2012.

An extra-special attraction on this festive cruise is live entertainment from two of the best tribute bands around, appearing as part of the exclusive Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines' 'Music & Laughter' programme. The acts are 'Bee Gees Magic' and 'Abba Magic', and they will be recreating the great sounds of the Seventies' super-groups during the cruise.

Prices for this Christmas cruise start from £3,597 per person, based on two adults sharing an outside twin cabin, Grade 'E', and include accommodation, all meals and entertainment on board – including the popular 'Music & Laughter' programme – and port taxes.
